Dear FCC:

I am writing to complain about the proposed changes to the Universal Service Fund and requesting that the FCC investigate this matter further before changing the current policy. Your proposed $1.00 per month charge for all wireless phones will directly impact my ability to retain my wireless service.

I do not think it is fair to charge EVERYBODY $1.00 dollar regardless of how they use their wireless phone, especially for a low-volume user that relies on wireless service for safety and security, not interstate calls. The current policy is fair, based on interstate usage, and should be left alone. Please do not penalize us. Keep this fair.

While the above form letter pretty much sums up the situation, I would like to reiterate the need to have a phone strictly for emergencies. I traditionally do not make many calls from a car phone, but I think of it mainly as a issue of security and peace of mind. There is a feeling of safety that comes when a person knows if he has car trouble in a bad part of the city or on a back country road he has an outlet with which to seek out help.

Thank you for your prompt attention to this matter. Please provide a written response indicating the status/resolution of this matter.

Very truly yours,

Brian Jones
